March 9, 2023

Hello my dear esteemed friend Mrs. Irina and ELFO FAMILY. I hope you are well and your family too. Stay blessed, enlightened and healthy. I elaborate my sharing about the love of humanity, respect, harmony and love. Together we are stronger. Together we are more than winners. We go forward with great empathy and love for the victims of the war in Ukraine.

As much as humanity is a sea of pluralities, we are all equal and brothers. We feel the same feelings and deserve respect! Extend your hand to those in need. If everyone does this, humanity will not lack attention and will know empathy.

Faith is the certainty of what is not seen, and even so, it can move mountains. Have faith in humanity and you will see the difference from a positive look! Everyone has something better inside of them. If this best is shared, humanity will be full of positive points that cannot be measured.

The other's pain is not just one more, it is one in a countless number of pains. Humanity cries, and we can be friendly shoulders for it!

The sun makes flowers bloom, while smiles make humanity happy. Promote smiles, brighten the cloudy days of those who cry! If everyone respected each other, humanity would be fairer and less impulsive. What can be gained by mistreating an individual? Anything!

If I could wish humanity anything, I would wish a hug. Thus, all people would feel the pleasure and calm of the closeness of hearts.

I declare my candidacy for BELFO President, apprehending Ukrainian War

January 3, 2023

Hello ELFO and BELFA family.

I want to congratulate and wish all ELFO members a happy 2023 with trillions of infinite blessings, health, peace, plenty and abundance.

From now on, I promote myself and remain responsible for assuming BELFA as president.

I also want to provide a context for the end of the war in Ukraine which is causing world hunger. I wish for 2023 with peace in the world and the end of the war in Ukraine.

Lula calls for an end to the war in a meeting with representatives of Russia and Ukraine

"In Brazil we have a tradition of defending the integrity of nations and we are going to talk to whoever is possible for peace," said the president-elect, who spoke with Russian president, Vladimir Putin, earlier this month, to discuss Brazil-Russia relations.

President-elect Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva met this Saturday (31) with representatives from Russia and Ukraine before his inauguration and asked for an end to the war between the two countries. Lula, who will take office on January 1, 2023, met separately with the president of the Russian Federation Council, Valentina Matvienko, and with the Ukrainian deputy prime minister, Yulia Svyrydenko.

Lula is said to have told Matvienko that Brazil wants "peace and that the parties find a common point for the end of the conflict", which began when Moscow sent troops to Ukraine on February 24th. He said that Svyrydenko brought him a report on the situation in his country.

"In Brazil we have a tradition of defending the integrity of nations and we are going to talk to whoever is possible for peace," said Lula, who spoke with Russian President Vladimir Putin earlier this month to discuss Brazil-Russia relations.

Lula has sought to share the message that "Brazil is back" on the global stage after four years under President Jair Bolsonaro, whose lax oversight of the environment and attacks on his country's electoral system alienated many diplomats.

Lula is expected to travel to the United States, China and Argentina early in his term, while sources told Reuters that German Chancellor Olaf Scholz and French President Emmanuel Macron could visit him in Brasilia as early as January.

The Noble Mission of Building the New Earth demands keeping yourselves in love and humanity

[JUN 7, 2022]

No fear. No worries. Everything that happens here on Planet Earth is moved by the Spiritual Plan. And the next... the departure from the spiritual plane to bring this moment of "calamity~" was a way to make the human being vulnerable to think about his own existence through an invisible threat... when the human being sees catastrophes. He is not really touched... and being of unconditional love and compassion to others is very rare... only for some beings.... this moment reverses that... because he thinks about the threat to others, closer.... but in reality you must realize that everything... everything on this earth is related.... integrated.... and that all lives are important..... sacred then he reviews his concepts and thinks that the threat has to be neutralized because as long as he has another infected humans his life will also be at risk... it's a somewhat selfish way... but it will make everyone wake up in one way or another,, for love or pain.... how many in our region die and we don't even care...? Because they are different, not having the same blood, origin, color, preferences and way of thinking or social class? Life on Earth has been trivialized... above all, respect for our Home (Pachamama) Planet Earth... and violence has become something normal in everyday life... since we were programmed in schools for the spirit of war, of competition... of the other as a threat,, of the pursuit of power at any cost... of ostentation..... we focus on the deadly sins and most of us have not even managed to overcome it..... but that will all change... luck of those who will be able to integrate this feeling with the understanding that we will have to build a new land, new ways of relating ... and effectively discover how important her life and everyone else's life is these new orders from the spiritual plane ask everyone to value in a different way the reason for being here incarnated... the need for service....of learning..... and the possibility of understanding within their hearts the true gift of being human.... well I think that's it for the moment... because nothing is permanent in this Universe... the only certainty is death and that if we don't do our homework again we will come back to rescue our karma.... understand each other, exercise forgiveness, look at yourself and forgive yourself. God is in everything and everyone.... this phase of the Planet is one of learning. From the integration of it all..... the Planet Earth University is the most perfect School of Creation... where only those who learn and live truth and love take ten.

This battle will give the true consecration of the Light of Creation. We come from the future to thank you. Feel understood and beloved, Earth brothers. When you suffer, we here on the Spiritual Plane also suffer. But we are always guiding you.... and we always offer you new opportunities again... until you are released to disincarnation. Certainly when this storm passes the look, embrace and feel the next, it will be much more interesting. You will be able to discover the other in you. We thank those who have cared and fought immensely for truth and life. Blessed be all.

How often do peace negotiations fail and why?

[June 20, 2022]

Hello, my dear ELFO family brothers

I hope everyone is well and safe. Wishing you safe, blessed and enlightened days. I report and draft my article on Russian-Ukraine peace agreements.

How often do peace negotiations fail and why? Most of the time between 1946 and 2005, only 39 of 288 conflicts, or 13.5%, ended in a peace agreement, according to a research initiative at Uppsala University in Sweden. The others ended with the victory of one side, or the end of the fight without a peace agreement or a victory.

But even when warring parties fail to reach a peace agreement, negotiations can reduce civilian casualties through a temporary ceasefire or the establishment of humanitarian corridors to deliver supplies or evacuate civilians. There is also evidence that even failed peace agreements reduce the intensity of future conflicts.

How useful can peace negotiations be when warring parties are still fighting? Much. Peace talks can create a basis for an eventual agreement to end the conflict. They can also reduce harm to communities. In my experience, ceasefire negotiations are often held during a peak of violence. Such violence could provide impetus to reduce fighting in the future.

If the warring parties agree to a ceasefire and abide by that agreement, casualties on both sides can be avoided. They can also create an initial foundation of trust that can ease the way for more difficult negotiations. The Nuba Mountains ceasefire agreement in Sudan, for example, is credited with helping to build the trust that allowed for broader and more meaningful north-south peace negotiations starting in 2002.

Tight agreements that help to end violence and save lives can also be reached. During the 2008-2009 Gaza war, for example, while there was no agreement on a ceasefire, Israel opened a humanitarian corridor to allow rescue aid to be delivered to civilians.

A better and equitable balance among the three ways

[June 16, 2022]

Hello ELF family.

I hope everyone is well, safe, healthy and blessed. I want to congratulate our brothers' birthday of Dr. Sahdev Singh and Dip. William Amoa. I also want to congratulate our young 80-years-old President Rikio Kaneko for having successfully completed his driving exam with blessings and success. I wish blessings, love, light, health, peace and kindness. Success and prosperity to all members.

What is most common? Until the end of the Cold War, most conflicts ended in military victory: 85%, almost half won by the rebels, half by the government. The rest ended in truce or agreement. Then there was a lot of pressure from the international community for a negotiated end to civil wars, so we had a better and equitable balance among the three ways that wars end.

In addition to the pressure, in many states the opponents could no longer count on the help of the Soviets or the Americans, as in the case of El Salvador (1979-1992), and thus sought to negotiate an end to the conflict.

Do negotiated peace agreements usually work? It depends upon situation. These agreements tend to be fragile. The bright side is that they stop the killing. The downside is that rivalry can persist and make wars recurring. We can look again at Sudan. They had a negotiated agreement in 1972 (to end the war that started in 1955), then they had a new conflict in 1983 and then a new agreement (in 2005). The difference now is that the country split into two states. Conflicts erupted again between the north and the south, but in the border region.

Finally, negotiated agreements tend to be more precarious. How do wars end? In three ways. It can end up with a military victory for one side, either the government or the rebels – who can take over the whole country, as in the case of Uganda (1980-86), or promote its partition, as in the case of Sudan (1983-86). 2005). It may end up by mutual agreement between the parties, with the composition of a coalition government or the constitution of a political party integrated by the rebels in a position to compete for power. And it can end in truce or stalemate, that is: the dispute does not exactly come to an end, but each side does not have the military capacity to end the other.

A hymn of love and peace for all the brothers of the ELFO family

[June 12,2022]

Hello ELFO family and all brothers. Great blessed weekend to all. I thank you in advance for the efforts, generosity, empathy and kindness of President Rikio Kaneko and the entire ELFO family. I prepare my article and let us pray together for the war victims in Ukraine.

One hundred days of war in Ukraine left 5.2 million children and adolescents in need of humanitarian assistance. At least 262 boys and girls have died and 415 have been injured in attacks since 24 February. Three months into the war, and humanitarian needs are multiplying by the hour as fighting continues. Children and adolescents continue to be killed, injured and deeply traumatized by the violence around them. Many have seen things that no boy or girl should see. Their homes were hit. Their schools were attacked, along with any systems that could help them survive.

Families are terrified, in shock and desperate for safety. The large-scale displacement of people since the start of the war could have lasting consequences for generations to come. Children and adolescents fleeing the war in Ukraine are also at greater risk of human trafficking and exploitation. Meanwhile, attacks with explosive weapons in populated urban areas continue to cause civilian casualties, including children and adolescents, and considerable damage to infrastructure and essential services.

As a result, homes, schools, hospitals, water systems, power plants and places where civilians seek shelter were damaged or destroyed. UNICEF is working with partners to reach vulnerable children, adolescents and families with essential services – including health, education, protection, water and sanitation – as well as vital supplies. To end the article I leave a hymn of love and peace for all the brothers of the ELFO family to come and sing together with the spirit of light, hope and love.

May there be Peace on Earth, starting with me

May there be Peace on Earth, starting with me.

Brothers we are all children of the same God.

Let's walk together, in the peace that comes from Heaven.

Starting with me, I promise my Lord That with every step I take, and wherever it is,

Every moment I will be living in full peace and love.

May there be Peace on Earth, starting with me.

Tension between Russia and Ukraine

The tension between Russia and Ukraine has historical and political motivations. The countries share diverse cultural habits and are situated in a conflicted zone of Europe. The tension between Russia and Ukraine goes through several moments of the constitution of these two nations located in the far East of Europe. Ukraine, which was dominated by the Russian Empire in the past, has been partially invaded by Russia in the current century.

The takeover of the Crimean Peninsula by Russia in 2014 further intensified the tempers between the two countries. Currently, new sources of tension on the eastern Ukrainian border have reignited fears of a Russian invasion. This concern is also shared with Western countries, especially the United States, traditional opponents of the Russian government. Summary on tension between Russia and Ukraine share their historical formation, political constitution and culture in many ways. Ukraine was dominated by the Russian Empire and later by the Soviet Union.

Ukrainian independence took place only in 1991. Since its independence, Ukraine has approached Western nations in the political, economic and cultural areas. Ukraine's rapprochement with the West is viewed with suspicion by Russia, which fears the loss of an important area of influence. The current tension between Russia and Ukraine has as one of the motivators the invasion of the Crimean Peninsula that took place in 2014.

Currently, there are thousands of Russian soldiers deployed along the eastern Ukrainian border, a scenario that raises fears of a new invasion of the country. Ukraine is counting on the support of Western nations, such as the United States and the United Kingdom, to prevent a possible Russian invasion. Tension between Russia and Ukraine derives from political, economic and cultural motivations. First, Ukraine encompasses a territory that has been occupied over time by different peoples.

One of these peoples, called Rus, is considered a unifying element between populations of countries such as: Belarus; Russia; Ukraine. Thus, some Russian opinion makers argue that Ukraine is part of the cradle of the Russian nation. Ukraine, in turn, was dominated by the Russian Empire and later by the Soviet Union. At that time, especially during the Soviet context, the Ukrainian population had their freedom repressed, through the imposition of cultural and linguistic practices.

In addition, part of the Soviet period was marked in Ukraine by a period of great famine, which decimated a fraction of the country's inhabitants. In addition, after Ukraine's independence in 1991, there was a rapprochement between this country and other European nations. An example of this is the economic context, such as Ukraine's attempts to participate in the European Union (EU), and the political issue, as Ukraine intended to join the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). These points are viewed with suspicion by Russia, which fears Western influence in that nation.

Finally, there is also the question of the invasion of the Crimean peninsula, part of Ukrainian territory, which took place during the year 2014. Russia, in addition to having invaded this area, offers support to the rebel forces present in eastern Ukraine. This situation generates a permanent warlike climate that harms both nations. Part of Ukraine's eastern provinces recorded heavy economic and human losses during the conflict.

What are the causes of tension between Russia and Ukraine? The tension between Russia and Ukraine has as its main focus the rapprochement of Ukrainians with the so-called Western nations. Ukraine's interest in participating in organizations such as the European Union and NATO has raised fears in Russia of a greater rapprochement between that nation and countries considered rivals by the Russian regime.

War and Culture

[June 6, 2022]

Hello, ELFO FAMILY.

I hope everyone is okay. Great Thursday to all and eternal blessings to all. I prepare my article based on the war in Ukraine. I hope that each brother member will seek strategies and solutions about the article and the war in Ukraine. Wanting to avoid war can be one of the noblest purposes of a culture. It can be based on the most diverse motivations, but it is always an interesting project, especially when you know the suffering that wars imply.

The question now is not so much what motivates us to want to avoid it, but how to do it. The peoples that most wanted to avoid wars were always warrior peoples. Others usually only want to do it when others decide for them to go to war. That's why we also have to put ourselves in the warrior's posture to know how to avoid such a drama. If we run the risk of having a war in Europe, I won't deal with it here. I just wanted to share some ideas about what people say on street corners about how to avoid war.

The so-called well-thinking public says that what prevents war is culture and development. However, this idea has some weaknesses, which I advance timidly. The first is the historical test. Thus, classical Greece would not have made wars, nor would Renaissance Italy, nor France, nor Germany, nor England. It is the case that most of the eminently cultured peoples in history are warrior peoples.

The Netherlands of the Golden Century was not only a merchant, it was armed, and I don't know of any really cultured people who didn't make war. The second weakness is structural. Imagine that we are invaded. We will have to ask them not to do it on Monday, when the museums are closed, in order to show them to the barbarians who invade us. They will be humiliated by our immense culture and will leave apologizing immensely, which would have been a mistake, as they did not know we would be so cultured. It would be like this?

Russia's justifications – and conditions for ending the conflict

Hello dear ELFO family.

May 31, 2022

I hope everyone is well, safe and healthy.

Russia has been tightening its military grip around Ukraine for the past year, amassing tens of thousands of troops, equipment and artillery at the country's gates.

In December 2021, Putin presented NATO – North Atlantic Treaty Organization, a western military alliance – with a list of security requirements. Chief among them was ensuring that Ukraine would never join NATO and that the alliance would reduce its military presence in Eastern and Central Europe.

Negotiations have not progressed, and the build-up of military force on the borders has not slowed, despite the diplomatic effort undertaken in early 2022.

Days before starting the invasion, which the Russians call a “special military operation” to this day, Vladimir Putin recognized the independence of two pro-Russian separatist areas of Ukraine, the self-styled People’s Republic of Donetsk and People’s Republic of Luhansk.

The Russian said there was an ongoing "genocide" in eastern Ukraine, carried out by the country's "neo-Nazi" troops against ethnic Russians and separatists in the region.

What does Ukraine say? Ukraine has received a huge wave of international support from countries both in the military sphere - with several Western nations sending weapons, drones, cyber-attack defense systems and others - and in the repudiation of global institutions and much of the private sector of the attacks. .

A prominent figure emerging from the war situation was the Ukrainian president, Volodymyr Zelensky, who began to pressure Western nations for military and humanitarian support and also tried to negotiate the country's entry into the European Union and even NATO -- although Zelensky has already abdicated the last demand.

As an ELFO peace ambassador

[May 16, 2022]

Hello my dear respected Ms. President of GA Irina.

I am very grateful for her esteemed precious message and I am very happy and ready to peacefully promote world peace without speech, hatred, rancor and resentment towards the heads of states of Russia and Ukraine.

My duty and right as an ELFO peace ambassador is to convey love, hope, kindness, light, justice, brotherhood, equality and security to the world without any kind of civilian nuclear weaponry. As a duty my role as ELFO peace ambassador is to convey legitimate transparency with character, dignity and honesty to the united nations regarding the sanctions demands that will be institutional for each nation with the war in Russia and Ukraine. The world no longer needs a civilian nuclear weapon.

The world needs peace, justice and equality as a right. It will be in legitimate character that no more world war will be allowed in the world. Demand sanctions will be constituted with defined clauses for world peace without civil nuclear weapons and gunpowder. I am most honored and happy that the ELFO family is supporting me and also very grateful to my dear respected esteemed young president Mr. Rikio Kaneko for the continuous support and for never giving up on me.

ELFO family you are special and amazing to me. You live inside my heart. I ask for prayers to all the brothers of the ELFO family that this opportunity and trip will go well and that the two heads of states of Russia and Ukraine will come to understand the message of the ELFO family to cease fire in the war in Ukraine. I bend my knees every day tirelessly two to three times a day to pray for the ELF family, nations, authorities, kingdoms and also for the global population that is facing difficult, dark, catastrophic times of spread and contamination of 50 mutations of the Omicron variant which is spreading more and more in Asia, China and the world.

Let us always pray for each other, even when we need to. Regardless of your religion, belief, ethnicity and culture , the important thing is that everyone has a kind, loving, peaceful heart. Remember ELF family we are children of one creator of the universe, earth and planet. Almighty God, most high, most worthy, omnipotent and omniscient. He lives and he reigns on earth forever. God is the prince of peace, God is strong and God is wonderful with everyone. God designed clay and made man out of clay. We are the son of the God of science and creator of the universe and architect. To end my article I wish all the ELFO brothers and family happy, prosperous, blessed, safe, enlightened and healthy days!!

Edmario Peixinho dos Santos.

ELFO Acting Chief of Religion and Ethics Council, President of the BELFO

Hello my dear dear friends brothers diplomats, celebrities, personalities and artists of the ELFO family.

[May 9,2022]

I elaborate the ELFO family that I am extremely super motivated and preparing myself physically and financially to visit the heads of states of Ukraine and Russia.

If possible, I would also like to meet the diplomatic advisers of the UN assembly.

I am very grateful for everyone's opportunity to fulfill this desire in my heart to visit the heads of state of Russia, Ukraine and also to travel around the world. I want to convey my light, positive energies, love, promises, kindness and hope to global humanity.

I would very much like with my esteemed diplomatic efforts to prevent a ceasefire in Ukraine from a third world war. My speeches are extremely peaceful without rancor, hatred, resentments and hurt feelings.

My speeches with the heads of state Valdimir Putin (Russia) and also with the head of state Volodymyr Zelensky (Ukraine) will be extremely speeches of global peace with love, justice, nuclear civil disarmament, hope and fraternity for global humanity.

I believe in the impossible and I am fighting and striving for God to open doors financially to promote this rich blessed opportunity to meet the UN and the heads of state Vladimir Putin (Russia) and Volodymyr Zelensky (Ukraine).

We diplomats of the ELFO organization and family have the aim and goal of promoting global peace without any kind of civil nuclear weapons on earth.

All allied nations and countries agreeing to global peace will have to sign agreements that will be presupposed by the UN Charter to recycle the planet's civil nuclear weapons and also agreements on diplomatic territories without ever having nuclear war again in the world.

I seek peaceful diplomatic solutions between nations without causing harm, slander, defamation, revenge, persecution and harm to any other nation.

I put myself in the pain of the world population.

I put myself in pain, in the place of my neighbor and I also have feelings of affection for so many lives that were broken in the face of this world war in Ukraine.

In 76 days of conflict, the Ukrainian government officially accounts for 3,381 dead. The UN, which sent a commission to the country to investigate the damages of the war, has been carrying out a broader survey of this number for 2 days. My condolences from my heart to these broken lives.

Together we are stronger and more than winners to prevent this third world war that can cause destruction on planet earth with the powerful missiles of Russia and Ukraine.

I am saddened by broken lives and disasters. Russia has launched so many missiles against Ukraine that it has run out of "precision guided weapons and has trouble returning them",

My opinion is of extreme value to restore joy to the global population that today lives hurt, sad and hurt due to dark, catastrophic and greedy moments that we are experiencing in the middle of a pandemic, endemic, economy and third world war.

My opinion is that the different religions and also Pope Francis peacefully demand speeches without hate, threats, rancor, offenses and also without resentment to heads of state Valdimir Putin (Russia) and President Volodymyr Zelensky (Ukraine).

All faiths, ethnicities, tribes must unite peacefully at this time to discuss global peace and aim for world civil nuclear disarmament, thus causing a major impact in the world war in Ukraine.

It is predominant that the world order will be facing shortly to advance in the proposed powers and with the proposed UN letter to demand diplomatic sanctions to unify a single religion in the universe.

In respect of all religions, beliefs and ethnicities. Nations agreeing to this will demand diplomatic sanctions to unify the religions. Because together we are stronger and more than winners.

Ukraine is an important supplier of grain and corn to the planet. Therefore, the Russian invasion may create a food shortage that will further exacerbate hunger in certain African countries, which are already suffering from droughts and lack of access to clean water. A smaller, more human example.

In 2020, during a heat wave, melting ice caused a tank to rupture, spilling around 30,000 tons of diesel oil into rivers and lakes near Norilsk, a city of 175,000 built on that ice. By 2050, it is estimated that the soil in the region will no longer be able to support any structure. The damage could cost the government $132 billion.

So how will Russia respond? Solving these problems requires money, planning, and shifting priorities. When there is none of this, the risks to the population are high, scientists say.

In August 1945, the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki were destroyed by nuclear bombs and killed at least 129,000 people, in addition to all the devastating health effects of thousands more caused by radiation. And what could happen, these days, under a threat of nuclear war?

Yours sincerely and peacefully,

Mr. Edmario Peixinho dos Santos

The weapon they both use is a powerful one – fake news

[May 9, 2022]

Hello my esteemed dear dear respected fellow diplomat members of ELFO.

First of all I wish you all great blessed spring days, peace, love, prosperity and health.

I always elaborate as sudden words of encouragement and support the conduct that all brothers members of the ELFO must maintain in speeches without hatred, rancor and division to such a decreed and expected pacification between Ukraine, Russia and nations. Our goal is to help each other and go in search of peaceful solutions to turn this page that the world is going through in turbulent times, dark and catastrophic.

Let's promote peace, hope and love for a better and blessed world without any kind of civilian nuclear weapons. Our objective and goal is to eliminate any and all types of civilian nuclear weapons. The world no longer needs blood, sadness and mourning.

This is not a local conflict, but a global one, which could escalate at any moment into a 3rd World War. What is at stake is international economic and military dominance. Despite being incomparably more powerful than Ukraine, Russia is currently losing the narrative battle, at least in the West.

The weapon they both use is a powerful one – fake news. Lying has always been a strategic instrument in wars. Now it's no different. Today it is much more sophisticated with the technological manipulation of images and videos. Examples abound.

On February 24, 2022, Russia announced the invasion of Ukraine and said that its objective was to ensure that the neighboring country did not join the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance (NATO). Furthermore, Russian President Vladimir Putin claimed that he intended to "denazify" eastern Ukraine.

In practice, the occupation seems to start a new stage in international geopolitical relations. In addition, popular and leftist movements around the world point to the responsibility of the United States and NATO in the conflict, a perspective rarely addressed by the prevailing discourse in the commercial media.

One in two Americans in what is the richest country in the world lives in or near poverty. We have to be able – and we are trying – to organize ourselves here to say that US foreign policy and US war policy are the policies of the same capitalist and banker classes, the billionaire class, that are oppressing us here, in our country. And instead of being robbed, run over and drowned in the war hysteria generated by our own oppressors, we have to expose that war is for the rich.

The commercial press often singles out Russia as the culprit for the war in Ukraine. However, several analysts have been exposing, in recent times, the responsibility of the United States and NATO in the increase of tensions between the two countries. What is the historic role of the US and NATO in this war?

Edmario Peixinho

ELFO Acting Chief of the Religion and Ethics Council. President of the BELFO.

How long will the Russian people bear the high costs of a war?

[April 29, 2022]

I elaborate my article referring to the Ukraine and Russia war.

In any social relationship, conflict is to be expected. In the international system, composed of countries endowed with sovereignty and, therefore, not subject to subjection or intervention made by another (with a few very rare exceptions), these conflicts must be resolved through diplomatic and judicial channels.

As a result of the end of World War II, countries decided that the best way to maintain peace and security would be to strengthen international institutions of law and multilateralism. The United Nations was created to ensure that negotiations between countries had a public and broader forum so that transparency and the possibility of forming alliances could occur.

The UN's organizational structure provides in its Charter for the functioning of two major administrative bodies: the General Assembly and the Security Council. The ultimate objective of the two bodies is to promote peace and security in the world.

In the case of the conflict between Russia and Ukraine, in addition to the war physically in the region, there is a war of narratives that takes place in the Security Council, which led Russia, a permanent member of the Council, to exercise the right of veto. This right means that Russia's condemnation of the invasion of Ukraine is not approved.

The veto by Russia makes the multilateral declaration of illegality unfeasible, which would bring greater pressure on President Putin and reduce the noise about the sanctions already imposed on Russia by the United States and other Western countries. The declaration would even unequivocally place China on the side of those who condemn the invasion, considering that President Xi sees the UN multilateralism field as the appropriate way to resolve the conflict.

On March 2, the UN General Assembly approved, by 141 votes in favour, with one belt against and 35 abstentions, a resolution condemning the invasion of Ukraine by Russia, placing the immediate need for a ceasefire and withdrawal of troops.

In essence, the Resolution describes the procedural framework by which the Assembly could consider and make recommendations on questions of international peace and security, provided that three criteria are met: 1) lack of unanimity among the permanent members of the Security Council; 2) failure of the Security Council to exercise its responsibility for international peace and security, because of this lack of unanimity; and 3) the existence of a threat to the peace, breach of the peace or act of aggression.

The approval of the Resolution on March 2 also points to the democratic deficit observed in the Security Council, which, due to the right of veto, generates a monopoly on international security issues in the hands of only five countries: the United States, Russia , France, United Kingdom and China. The complexity since the end of the Second World War has altered and diversified the security and peace scenarios, incorporating other variables that cannot be ignored in the Council's decisions.

However, the question remains: how effective is the resolution in terms of ending the conflict? The answer is not as simple as some analysts would have you believe, pointing to the ineffectiveness of the resolution if Russia does not give in. This may only be true up to page two. Russia may even continue with what it calls a conflict (it avoids calling it a war so as not to add a very high regulatory burden to the violence committed), but it will have to bear the consequences of the sanctions, which are strengthened and legitimized from the Resolution.

How long will the Russian people bear the high costs of a war?

Edmario Peixinho Acting head of the Council of Religion and Ethics.

Our aim, purpose and goal are to disarm the world

Hello, my dear diplomatic brothers of the ELFO family.

Have happy days and winning days. Together we are stronger and more than winners.

I elaborate here and collaborate with my article corresponding to the Russia and Ukraine war questionnaire. Let's go on this journey together with unity, speech without hate and rancor. Let's pacify the planet with joy, hope, peace and love.

Our aim, purpose and goal are to disarm the world from all types of nuclear weapons.

Wanting to avoid war can be one of the noblest purposes of a culture. It can be based on the most diverse motivations, but it is always an interesting project, especially when you know the suffering that wars imply. The question now is not so much what motivates us to want to avoid it, but how to do it. The peoples that most wanted to avoid wars were always warrior peoples. Others usually only want to do it when others decide for them to go to war.

That's why we also have to put ourselves in the warrior's posture to know how to avoid such a drama. If we run the risk of having a war in Europe, I won't deal with it here. I just wanted to share some ideas about what people say on street corners about how to avoid war. The so-called well-thinking public says that what prevents war is culture and development. However, this idea has some weaknesses, which I advance timidly.

The first is the historical test. Thus, classical Greece would not have made wars, nor would Renaissance Italy, nor France, nor Germany, nor England. It is the case that most of the eminently cultured peoples in history are warrior peoples. The Netherlands of the Golden Century was not only a merchant, but an armed one, and I don't know of any really cultured people who didn't make war.

The second weakness is structural. Imagine that we are invaded. We will have to ask them not to do it on Monday, when the museums are closed, in order to show them to the barbarians who invade us. They will be humiliated by our immense culture and will leave apologizing immensely, which would have been a mistake, as they did not know we would be so cultured. It would be like this? Or is it precisely development and culture that arouse the greed of the barbarians, as was seen in relation to the Roman Empire, or India to the Mongols, or Byzantium to the Turks?

Poor and uneducated people do not arouse great greed, only occupation. Culture and development can, in certain circumstances, remove the will to war from those who have these attributes, but it does not do so in relation to neighbors who do not have them. The second commonplace says that it is knowledge of the “other” (a tenacious and corny expression, if there is one) that prevents war.

Let us accept in an impulse of generosity that a religious knowledge of a Socratic or Christian type would have this effect. But, given that this type of knowledge is hard to obtain and rarely collective, it seems to be an ineffective desideratum. Let us first see what the historical test tells us. Never before did Europe know so much German and French as it did from the second half of the 19th century to the end of World War II. At that time, Germans and French knew their respective cultures with a depth that is not available today.

However, there are still two or three problems here. The Olympics were sponsored by the Nazis and other totalitarian regimes, and if the party is more important than cynics claim, it's less important than lyricists want. If we look closely, we are left with a word that is as solid as steel on this journey. In the long run, only power prevents war. It is evident that it doesn't hurt to be developed, cultured, to know your neighbor well, to have neither the will nor the interest in making war, not to derive a fundamental taste from it, and to remove that will, interest and taste in the neighbor. For those who want to love their neighbor, do so and may the symbols be prudent.

But history has given us several lessons. The first is that you are never sure of the future, and therefore you are never sure of completely avoiding war. So it's wise to be prepared for it. A Europe stripped of military power is thus a Europe open to the next rapist and, from the outset, to his blackmail. It is not by chance that Turkey has the nerve to say that it only leaves Cyprus on condition that it enters the European Union. For an underdeveloped country to have this topknot, it knows that it talks to the weak.

And contrary to what has been said, history prays for the weak. To mourn them, deplore them and, at best, have compassion on them. I don't know if being unprepared for a war increases the chances of it happening. I just know that it increases the desire of those who want to do it because they know that the costs are lower. And it certainly increases our costs if it occurs. Let's have the wedding pretending that all is well. The next day we will see his remains.

My political view of candidacy for the BELFA President N.1.

Leadership is associated with competence in building noble values

Happy autumn in Brazil and happy spring in Japan. Cheers ...

Hello, my dear Brazilian friends and brothers of the BELFA (Brazilian Earth-Loving Friendly Association). Cordially and kindly I come to introduce myself to the members, celebrities and personalities. I'm Edmario Peixinho dos Santos. Acting Chief of the ELFO Council of Religion and Ethics. I am running for President of the Brazilian BELFA. I am very excited and excited to join this organization and I would really like to learn with great humility, solidarity and kindness from each member of BELFA.

I hope to enjoy the best in this organization and I count on everyone's support as a leader candidate for the presidency of BELFA. The greatest leader is the one who recognizes his smallness, draws strength from his humility and experiences his fragility.

The function of leadership is to produce more leaders, not more followers. It is not leadership, nor value, nor companionship where relationships are summed up, the most essential element for this is called trust. Leadership is directly associated with competence in building relationships with noble values and on solid foundations. Leadership does not make you special, what is special is that group without or with the leader working as a team, because the leader's duty is to make everyone work together.

Leadership requires a lot of knowledge and wisdom. To lead is to persuade without imposing, to give an opinion without commanding, but the leader's differential is the ability to do all this. Leadership is the process of leading a group of people, turning them into a team that generates results.

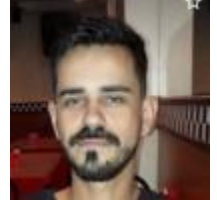

“Assuming a leadership position requires a lot of responsibility, knowledge and a keen sense of intuition, in addition to understanding and enjoying dealing with people. I see a lot of people who take on a leadership role just for the status that the nomenclature brings, but they forget to check if they are prepared for this or even to seek this qualification.”

Discipline is the ability to be human has to tame his most cunning opponent, your own mind. Leaders are people who create the norms by which they judge themselves and are willing to be judged by. The greatest skill of a leader is to identify aptitudes and develop extraordinary competences in ordinary people. Good leaders are fulfilled by orchestrating the work of their team, forming new leaders and positively electrifying the work environment. The leader mobilizes the led to aim for things. If you have a positive focus, leadership becomes a phenomenon that makes a difference by placing you in a prominent position in the organizational hierarchy. The very essence of leadership is that you have to have a vision.

Significant numbers of refugees are starting to move west

I appreciate the sharing actions of each celebrity of our ELFO

Hello, in this article I cordially elaborate and claim the extreme solidarity, kindness and actions of the continental countries closest to Ukraine to embrace the refugees from Ukraine who are in need of the support and solidarity of all of us diplomatic brother members of the Elf family.

As Acting Chief of the Religion and Ethics of the ELFO family team I appreciate the sharing actions of each celebrity brother member, diplomat, artist and journalist in humanitarian solidarity actions towards the refugee population of Ukraine.

The vast majority of refugees are in countries that border Ukraine, such as Poland, Slovakia, Hungary, Romania and Moldova. About 1.8 million of them stayed in Poland. But significant numbers of refugees are starting to move west, with 300,000 people heading to Europe. Together we are stronger and we will win this war.

I am very optimistic, honored and to be part of this great family of great professional leaders with great teachings and advice. After all, life is a school for all of us. Every day we learn something of different value for our high growth, engagement and recognition. I wish all the brother members happy days of blessings, health, protection, open doors, production and prosperity.

Can we avoid a Third World War?

Hello to all Elfo member brothers.

I fully agree with the actions, efforts and work of President Rikio Kaneko and Ajay.

I want to congratulate Mr. Rabello for his candidacy for the presidency of India. We are united for a more just, peaceful and solidarity world.

I really hope with my positive energies from the universe we can win the triumphant victory of majestic world peace.

Can we avoid a Third World War?

The cause of wars is associated with selfishness and human bellicosity. Due to unscrupulous ambition, man has generated many war conflicts over the centuries. According to historians, after the First World War, there was a high number of deaths on the last day of combat. The peace agreement, signed on 10/11/1918 at 5:00 am, established an end to hostilities at 11:00 am, and Germany pledged to withdraw its troops to the original borders. However, Allied forces chose to keep fighting for the next six hours, resulting in 10,900 fighters (on both sides) injured, killed or missing in action. It was a foolish decision, as the German soldiers would leave the region after the established time. What motivated this unnecessary clash was the illusion of honors and glories. Sadly, this lack of common sense and ferocity still persists among men.

We can avoid a world conflict, and the Christian religions could effectively collaborate in this regard. The Good News of Jesus established a roadmap for peace and harmony among peoples. But the essence of this doctrine remains obscured by theological rituals and dogmas created after the Romanization of Christianity, which adopted the pagan practices of the Roman Empire. As a result, our science has progressed, managing to map the human genome and explore the cosmos, but we remain insensitive to the pain of others.

We have become more efficient in slaughter, with smart bombs and nuclear devices of mass destruction, however, we have not achieved the spiritual peace we so long for. Fortunately, due to his immense love for us, Jesus returned in the last century and, as the Spirit of Truth, brought us the Comforter (John, 14:15 to 17), Spiritism. He established reasoned faith, because, supported by science, he clarifies that we are eternal spirits, evolving through reincarnations. Our physical body is just a temporary garment, which changes according to the place destined for the programmed task.

This eliminates ethnic discrimination between peoples and illusions about material achievements. It makes it possible to understand divine justice, by explaining the law of cause and effect, according to which we are heirs of our own actions. God is love, and he does not punish the sinner, rather, he makes it possible for him to make up for his mistakes through reincarnations. When the world really knows Spiritism, the peace so longed for by all those on the right of Christ will reign.

Mother earth needs peace

My dear ELFO Friends. I hope everyone is okay. I, Mr. Edmario, am also looking forward to the demonstration to be filed by each ELFO leader to intercept a new third world war among Ukraine, Russia and allies.

My dear leaders, we are talking about human lives that are in Ukraine who will suffer material losses and loss of life. If this third world war really happens, the world will collapse, shock to the world economy and many countries will suffer from the impact of the third world war Russia with Ukraine.

My dear ELFO leaders, what are your approved speeches and actions within this article? I end with the hymn article of mother earth loved by peace. Let's sing with our hands on our hearts the anthem of world peace.

*Mother earth, don't cry anymore
Mother earth needs peace*

*Good night mother moon
I came here to tell you how sad I am.
My heart is empty,
I see my brother the man
No peace, no compassion.
And the proof of it is on the screens.
There are so many wars and disunity.
In life you are free to do what you do.
But don't forget that there are things
That you can't go back.
All that remains, that time has not taken
My chest squeezes so much lack of love.
There are so many brands, so much pollution.
But not so the Earth
stopped you from reaching out.
Think with me, what can happen?
Without your existence, we can't live.* (FEB 25, 2022)

I am very happy and joyful to be part of this dear mother earth beloved ELFO family.

Hello, my dear dear dear brothers of the ELFO. I expressly elaborate and come to preside over the coherent pretext made up of the collective efforts of each member, personality, celebrity and journalist. God really is above all and that world peace, hope and love is closer to being objectively sealed by God on the happy mother earth planet. Rest assured, have credibility and transparency that our efforts are being rewarded by God the only creator of the sky, the planet and the universe. I thank all the members, personalities and celebrities for being part of this great icon family of love, peace, hope and kindness.

With great honor and joy I celebrate the month of my birthday which will take place on February 28 of the Brazilian calendar. I am very happy and joyful to be part of this dear mother earth beloved ELFO family. I come to preside with great respect, honor, solemnity and solidarity to Mr. Rikio Kaneko for the invitation he gave me, proposed to be in this wonderful family. It will really be the most special date of my birthday for the losses I had in my life and the family I had. But I am very grateful to the wonderful and powerful God for my life and for being alive and participating in the lives of all of the mother earth ELFO family.

Ukraine and Russia have extremely crossed the line under the pretext of economic crises that could cost the world dearly like the third cold world war. Cordially I come to preside over my joy and happiness for everyone and together we will move forward to reach the power of God to seal world peace, love and goodness in the world.

I hope everyone is well and that God can bless everyone's life regardless of their religion, ethnicity, culture and ethics. We are all children of one God, creator of heaven, earth, the universe and science. God has mercy, compassion, kindness for each of us for our faults, mistakes, self – centeredness, pride, consent, lack of understanding, lack of wisdom, lack of discernment. God is above everyone and I hope that everyone, regardless of their situation of diplomacy, social class and supremacy, respects the one divine order of heaven and respects each religion and culture.

Together we are stronger and more than winners. God is the greatest of all God is the King of kings. Success, health, peace, love, solidarity, joy, empathy and fraternity to all the brothers of the ELFO family.

LIGHTs and HOPEs corresponding to ELFO President's insight

Hello family lover of this happy land. Hello my dear president Rikio kaneko

Exactly we need to be light and hope in life of people. I agree to them, I hope they will inspire you, all brothers and all celebrities.

When our vision becomes blurred and our walk becomes more difficult in the darkest nights of the soul or even in moments of glory, we wish to have people by our side who are light, who are that strong presence capable of reminding us of who we are, that he sees with hope and even sees the goodness that our critical and searching eyes see. Just as light serves to brighten a place, define colors, make a distinction, so are those who come into our lives and we call them light. Light ends darkness, soothes and snuggles. Our friends are often lights on our dark path. How, then, can we be light if our interior is so often covered with wounds, darkness and lack of faith?

To be light, we need to have a look of hope ("The lamp of the body is the eyes; therefore, if your eyes are good, your whole body will have light" Mt 6,22), we need to have a compassionate and merciful heart, always ready to forgive and welcome ("learn from me, for I am meek and humble of heart; and you will find rest for your souls." Mt 11:29), a life that overflows the presence of God ("For in you is the fountain of life; through your light we see light." Psalm 36:9).

To be light is to choose to stay

Being light requires having a persevering, humble and faithful heart. Being able to persevere when the other, so many times, has already given up on himself, insistent when the other is parked, being able to always see him with hope, being able to believe in change, in the new that the Holy Spirit is able to do in each of us, and faithful, because when pain comes, when difficulties come, being light is choosing to stay.

To be light is to have the courage to enter places that are so often inaccessible, to explore unknown places and, in the midst of all this, to always have the ability to lead the other to meet with LOVE. It's being a path, it's pointing direction, it's encouraging the new and having the ability to see life in what's old. It's making the other see the beauty of life and living.

Be light, have the courage to shine in someone's dark nights and show them that there is still so much to live.

Dear Artists and Earth-Loving FAMILY

Today I also write with big letters "FAMILY" because even in these harsh, uneasy and disruptive days we ELFO at least shall be friendly, be one of HOPEs and LIGHTs for people. Even if the world is becoming grey and dark, our ELFO Artists can play great roles of OASIS in and out of the ELFO, uniting people around the world in spite of many differences. Please see an attachment regarding projects.

Let's harmonize ELFO members voices, mixing them together and very beautifully!!

Have happy days of February though it's cold,

Yours, Rikio

P.S. Currently deliberations are going on not only in the ID (Interstate Department), but also Peace Department, Religion and Ethics Department etc. I ask Chiefs will preside as promptly as possible.

Hello Irina and ELFO family. thanks for sharing.

In Congratulations on your birthday today, Dear Amb. Choinkhor!! I hope all the brothers of the ELFO family are well and always taking care of this worldwide pandemic.

Maintain social distance, use a mask and personal hygiene with gel alcohol and liquid soap. Stay tuned and vigilant for contamination and dissemination..

Mother Earth - Del Feliz Lyrics

Mother Earth, I am your fan
Your garden is beautiful to look at Woe is me, the wilderness turns to the sea mother earth teach me you
Protect the waters and the air
Consume only what you need

Creator god
with all subtlety gave nature
for us to take care of
I am a plague goat
northeast pawn
I won't loosen up

I'm going too
take care of the mountain ranges and the rapids
from my wilderness
I'm not the armadillo
What a fear curls
It burrows into the ground

I know that this sustainability
For the world it's a necessity
And without her I can't live
Oh! polluted my sky,
More Heat
It's what comes out of the pain
Of the forests that can die
Sure
have to support
Do you want to live?
have to wake up
want to smile
enjoy this beauty respecting mother nature.

(JAN 26, 2022)

Hello, mother earth family and my dear reverend young respected Rikio kaneko.

Hope everyone is well and your family. My warmest greetings with love, kindness, solidarity, resilience, consistency to new legal personality members, celebrities and journalists. we have to fight in mediate legal actions with positioning of power of authority to contain the advance of rumors of wars of firearms and nuclear.

In fact, we are already experiencing an invisible cold war of the world pandemic of COVID-Delta, Ômicron and among other invisible variants that are in occult that can propagate at high speed with a great degree of contamination and dissemination in the population.

Together we are stronger and more than winners. Together we will win this war with all our strength, commitment, resilience, consistency, dedication and propagation. "Tell the weak. I am strong 🦊🐻🐼." Our team and family is fearless, no one can defeat us ELFO family and happy mother earth. Let's seal world peace and plant a happier, protected and safe land under the control of the peace civilization authorities.

The authority of God is greater than any small authority of a man without education and doctrine. Who controls this earth and dominates is only the creator of heaven and earth, the almighty, sovereign, most high and most worthy God.

The solution to this varies depending on the person you are talking to. Some want to revoke the rights of American citizens to bear arms, while others advocate further arming the population. Most Americans have opinions that fall between these two extremes. But what could happen if the debate were suddenly and irrevocably resolved by the sudden disappearance of all the world's firearms, without a way to bring them back?

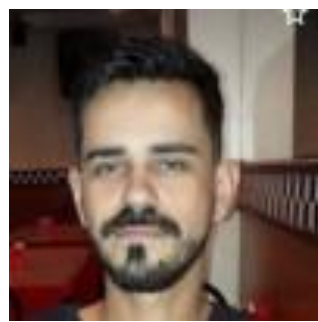

This cannot just happen as if by magic. But this thought experiment allows us to take politics out of the equation and rationally consider what we could gain - and lose - if we could decide to have fewer guns around. The most obvious effect is simple: there would be no gun deaths.

Approximately 500,000 people around the world are murdered by these weapons each year. In developed countries, more lives are lost in the United States, where citizens have 300 to 350 million guns. There, the firearm homicide rate is 25 times higher than the rates of other high-income nations combined. "About 100 people die in the country every day from being shot," says Jeffrey Swanson, professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Science at Duke University School of Medicine in the United States. "If we did away with guns, lots and lots of these lives would be saved."

At the top of the list would be lives lost to suicide. About 60% of the 175,700 firearm deaths in the United States between 2012 and 2016 were suicides. In 2015, half of the 44,000 Americans who committed suicide used a gun. More than 80% of suicide attempts with a weapon end in death. What's more, most survivors of suicide attempts never try to take their own lives again.

Happy Mother Earth Hymn (ELFO family)

I see a happy land
where will i live forever
There are mansions in this beautiful country
That Jesus came for me to prepare

I'm going to live! I will live
In this heavenly land to come!
I'm going to live! I'm going to live!
In this heavenly land to come!

I will sing in this beautiful country
Beautiful hymns to my Savior
For there I will live very happy
No anguish, sadness or pain

I'll sing! I'll sing
In this heavenly land to come!
I'll sing! I'll sing
In this heavenly land to come!

I will leave this world at last
To go to Jesus to worship
In this beautiful royal city
In endless adventures I will be

I will be! I will be
In this heavenly land to come!
I will be! I will be
In this heavenly land to come!

Let's fight to disarm all nations

JAN 17, 2022

I cordially and politely claim to the highly transparent leaders and world power that we can keep the resilience and growth propagating to keep the seal of peace in Russia, United States and other nations. We must aim to maintain the focus on the propagation of civil disarmament of nuclear weapons worldwide. Let's fight and win this war to disarm all nations and prevent chaos and catastrophic public calamity of countries and nations.

We have to align, work and prepare amicable agreements with powerful laws sanctioned by nations of the ELFO Team ministry the seal of peace, love and solidarity of civil world disarmament between the chunks. Let's fight and never ever give up on our goals, dreams and projects to take care of our mother earth and seal world peace with the unification of a single religion in the world.

Cordially in an act of love, kindness and solidarity I demand the ELFO family to elaborate, structure legislative ornamentations to eliminate once and for all nuclear weapons and gunpowder weapons or any kind of weapon in the world. We have a lot of work ahead and development to reap and sow in 2022 with victories and enjoy the best of God, the creator, redeemer, unique, omniscient, omnipotent and King of kings.

Together we are stronger and we will win this war of weapons raw material in the world. I highly count on everyone's spiritual and financial maturity on our 2022 victorious journey with the aim and goal of world order in 2022. I urge responsible global advisors to schedule new meetings on the solid basis of facing difficulties and obstacles with nations that are rising up with rumors of War for thus being interested in revolving capital and land.

Help Rio de Janeiro

Cordially I ask you that we will make our alliance with Brazil and nations the world civil disarmament and I really want your support and the ELFO family world organization to help me make changes in the city of Rio de Janeiro where I live.

Dream and Fullness

Hello beloved inspiring respected global leaders and my beloved Linkedin family. I respect all religions, ethnicities, cultures, races and denominations. God is unique and omnipotent. God is pleased with a gentle, humble, sincere and kind heart.

I will share with my brothers the word of the Almighty Most High and Most Worthy Beloved God.  For "those who are committed to the kingdom of God" and want to get the fullness of everything they dream of wanting in their lives: #Fullness means: complete or full. It is the state of what has been done in totality, which has reached the maximum evaluation or measure. God is totally committed to removing every obstacle for my complete delight in Him.

His dreams aren't more important than people; does this discourage you? God has no commitment to your yearnings; does it sad you? The real meaning of life is to serve and not to be served; does it embarrass you? Whoever has God's promises can indeed die without reaching them; does it disturb you? The answer to our prayers and commitments is the immense joy that God places in our hearts when we receive the good news and, finally, have the wonderful certainty that we were heard.

If you want God running your life, ask. But if you want to be listened to, attended to, and blessed, pray, commit, and don't doubt your faith. What commitment would God have with me regarding the choices I make without first consulting Him? "God is committed to those who are committed to Him!" In the same way that God committed to us, we must commit to people.

There are keys that God will release according to our levels of maturity and commitment. The righteous commit themselves to the word and teachings of God Putting them into constant practice in your life. Do not leave to affirm or reaffirm a commitment to God later, because tomorrow is not ours and the time for our repentance may be late.

God is not committed to fulfilling selfish dreams. He 'teaches' us first to dream, and then works towards the realization of those dreams. Make sure your dreams will bless other people or bring you unique fulfillment. Analyze your surroundings before charging God for what He doesn't approve of. Keep partner with God and everything will happen in the best way!

Depression, Fight, Dream and Happiness

Receive my greetings with lots of Empathy, kindness, love and light and from all members. An honor to have you in this connection that will generate great results and seeds of learning. My full respect and credibility to your rich acquaintance.

Never look down on depressed people. Depression is the last stage of human pain. Don't think that all funny people have a happy life, a beautiful laugh can be a cry for the soul. Post-nothing depression: nothing happened to you, but you get depressed anyway. It's the depression you feel when the world as it is, doesn't align with the world as you think it should be. Depression is very serious, continuous and complex thing.

Being sad is being attentive to yourself, being disappointed in someone, several or with yourself, being a little tired of certain repetitions, finding yourself fragile on any given day, for no apparent reason - the reasons have this mania for being discreet.

We are a society of people with notorious unhappiness: loneliness, anxiety, depression, destruction, dependence; people who are happy when they kill the time that was so hard to win. It's hard to get lost. It's so difficult that I'll probably find a way to find myself quickly, even if finding myself is again the lie I live on. The soul resists the sharpest pains much more easily than prolonged sadness. Sadness doesn't change us. It reveals to us.

Depression is a prison where you are both the prisoner and the cruel jailer. Antidepressants treat the pain of depression, but they do not cure the guilt and anxiety of loneliness. And always remember, in sadness or happiness, that this too passes away.

The important thing is not to win every day, but to fight always. Dreams do not determine where you are going to be, but they produce the necessary force to get you out of where you are. When words don't come out, tears speak for you. Wanting to win means already being halfway. Living means fighting. Patience lightens what sadness does not cure. If some people walk away from you, don't be sad, this is the answer to the prayer: "Deliver me from all evil, amen".

Have the most legitimate of ambitions: aspire to be happy! Despite our flaws, we need to see that we are unique pearls in the theater of life and understand that there are no successful people or failures. There are people who fight for their dreams or give them up. Without dreams, life has no sparkle. Without goals, dreams have no foundation. Without priorities, dreams do not come true. Dream, set goals, set priorities, and take risks to make your dreams come true. It is better to err by trying than by failing to omit!

There will always be love, there will always be good, on a two-way street with the strength of a train. someone help you and you help someone. Greater than the sadness of not having won is the shame of not having fought! Being happy is not having a perfect life. But using tears to irrigate tolerance. Use losses to refine patience. Use flaws to carve for serenity. Use pain to polish pleasure. Use obstacles to open the windows of intelligence.

Don't let people make you give up what you most want in life. Believe. Fight. Conquer. And above all, be happy! It is better to conquer yourself than to win a thousand battles. As long as there is a will to fight, there will be hope of winning. To the hungry give your bread, but to the sad give your heart.

Love your enemies as well as neighbor

I have been observing usefully that many members who are going to church, are fed up with cold and empty. So I tell you that church does not save anyone and neither is it a church sign. Parts of church members just go by going..

I'm sinful, miserable, flawed and sinner..I'm not worthy of anything here on earth..But I do my best..I'm a sinful man like everyone else. That's why I tell you, God is pleased with a gentle, humble, kind and merciful heart.

Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who mistreat you. If someone hits you in the face, offer the other cheek. For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life.

Don't spend so much time, desiring things that you could have if you didn't spend so much time desiring them. Father, forgive them, because they don't know what they're doing.

Whoever wants to be a leader must be a servant first. If you want to lead, you must serve. The Lord hides some things from the wise, but reveals them to little ones.

The eye is the lamp of the body. If your eye is good, your whole body will be filled with light. But if he is bad, your whole body will be filled with darkness. If the light in you is off, the darkness is immense. Don't do to others what you don't want others to do to you. A thousand will fall at your side, ten thousand at your right hand. But you will not be hit. Love your neighbor as yourself.

Living is planting.

Today is the time to be happy! Life is the result of the decision of each moment. Maybe that's why the idea of planting is so revealing about the art of living. Living is planting. It is an attitude of constant sowing, of letting the most diverse forms of seeds fall into the earth of our existence. Each choice, no matter how small, is a form of seed that we sow on the flowerbed that we are. One day, everything that we now silently plant, or let plant in us, will be planting that can be seen from afar...

For each day, your commitment. Biblical wisdom confirms this when it tells us that "under heaven there is a time for everything!" Today, in this time that is yours, the future is being planted. The choices you look for, the friends you cultivate, the readings you do, the values you embrace, the loves you love, will all determine the future harvest. Perhaps this is happiness: the joy of gathering from the land that we are, fruits that are pleasing to the eye!

Unhappiness, it may be the opposite. What we can't lose sight of is that life isn't real outside of cultivation. It is always time to sow seeds... It is always time to gather fruit. All at once. Yesterday's seeds, today's fruits, today's seeds, tomorrow's fruits! So don't lose sight of what you've been choosing to drop on your land.

Beware of sowers who don't love you. They have the power to spoil the outcome of many things. Beware of sowers you don't know. There is a lot of evil hidden in seductive smiles... Beware of those who drop anything on you, after all, you deserve more than anything. Beware of passing loves... they usually leave painful marks that don't go away... Beware of invaders in your body... they don't usually come back to help fix the mess... Watch out for the looks of those who don't know how to love you... they tend to make you forget that you're worth it...

Beware of the lying words that spread around... they tend to spoil our reference of truth... Beware of voices that insist on reminding you of your faults...they often damage your view of yourself. Don't be afraid to look in the mirror. It's that naughty face you have, that God decided to express once again, the love He has for the world. Don't be put off by yourself, even if today's harvest isn't very happy. Don't put an end to your hopes. There is still a lot to do, there is still a lot to plant, and to love in this life. Instead of being stuck on what you've done wrong, look ahead, and see what can still be done... Life is not over yet. And the poet already said "that dreams don't get old..."

Go ahead. Smile on the face and firm decision. God resolved to reform the world, and chose your heart to initiate the reform. This proves that He still believes in you. And if He still believes, who am I to doubt.

Cultivate love, sadness doesn't bloom

Every stone on the way you can remove. But it is necessary to have strength, it is necessary to have race, it is always necessary to have the will. Cover yourself with positive energies and let your soul sleep peacefully. Steady mind, clean soul and positive thinking always. Think positive and good things will happen! Positive mind, positive vibrations, positive life. It's a cycle!

Think positive, show affection and live however you want. Cultivate love, sadness doesn't bloom. Sow only what makes us good! Every day is a day to feed your heart with good energy .. May all that is most positive and true prevail on that day. When you desire the good, the good desires you too. The negativity of the world cannot bring you down unless you allow it to remain within you. Have you ever stopped to think that you might be trying to please the wrong people? I like positive people, who spread good vibes with just a smile.

May life be filled with lots of light, love and peace.

In life be like a sunflower: position yourself towards the light. As long as there is the light of life, there will always be a reason for the sun to shine again. Life is a path of shadows and lights. The important thing is to know how to vitalize the shadows and take advantage of the lights.

Life is a blow. May it be filled with lots of light, love and peace. One of the greatest privileges I have in life is to have the friendship of such enlightened people. Good thoughts attract an enlightened life, accompanied by good people.

Offer the light and people will find the way. Every man must decide whether he will walk in the light of creative altruism or in the darkness of destructive selfishness. When you have light inside, you can see outside. Wisdom directs not only our actions but also our thoughts.

Wise and enlightened people find no doubt in their decisions, as they know their purpose. Wisdom is the eternal light that will dwell in you. Light is the wisdom that breaks through ignorance and reveals the truth of life. Know how to be light even when surrounded by cloudy people.

Let us be wise as silence, strong as the wind and useful as the light. Discover your own light or you will spend the rest of your life being illuminated by the light of others. One who knows others is wise, one who knows himself is enlightened.

An enlightened person like you doesn't deserve to be with someone who tries to turn off your light. We can easily forgive a child who is afraid of the dark. The problem is when men are afraid of the light. Every good deed you do is a light that you light around your own steps.

Your light is unique and no one is able to take it away from you! With it, you transmit your essence and allow people to genuinely get to know you. It will always be your differential and your main quality. Everyone looks good in a good light. And it comes from within.

There is a light that even on the worst of days continues to shine within you. Believe her. Even if they don't see the light you carry within you, know that there are other people who need it.

Happiness Being honest with your heart is the best way to be happy

Hello my dear respected friend. Let God use you more and more in seconds and in connection and connection with God always .. God uses you my friend .. Grateful be the name of God almighty, most high and most dignified. I am poor in material goods. My greatest wealth is in the almighty king God, creator of the universe, and the earth.

I am small in the eyes of God ..We are miserable, sinners, unbelievers, hypocrites and self-centered ... More God has mercy on us, compassion and pity always. God loves us unconditionally and infinitely .. That is why we must always love our neighbor, respect and care for the other. We must be grateful at all times to God .. God only rewards those who have gratitude every day for the sunset ..

Being happy is not just living moments of joy. It means having the courage to face the moments of sadness and wisdom to transform problems into learning. Crying takes a load off our hearts, but smiling can change our reality. Chic is being happy. Elegant is being honest. Beautiful is to be charitable. It is wise to know how to be grateful. The rest is value inversion.

Take the risk. If it works, happiness. If not, wisdom. Prefer a smile, it's good for you and those around you. Laugh at everything, at yourself. Don't postpone joys. Be happy today! I hope that happiness catches you in a good way, and doesn't let go of you ever again... I'll find it well done because you'll get what you deserve: be happy! May the wind be light, may the rain wash, may the soul shine, may the heart calm, may harmony settle in and happiness remain.

Here comes life and turns you inside out just to prove that happiness comes from the inside out. There is no way to happiness. Happiness is the way. The smile is the rainbow of the face. Live your way. Be happy as you are. The happy ending is what we do. Happiness is finding the way out and wanting to stay. Put "being happy" at the top of your priority list. Happiness is not the absence of conflict, but the ability to deal with it. A happy person doesn't have the best of everything, but it makes everything better. Making the other happy is being happy without knowing it. Happiness is when the mouth is too small for the smile the soul wants to give. I can't even count how many reasons I have to smile every day! Since happiness bothers you so much, let's take care to be even happier and bother a lot more!

The best way to be happy is to contribute to the happiness of others. May the wind always blow in favor of happiness! May our desire be happy, be greater than our fear. Being honest with your heart is the best way to be happy. If happiness is in the little things I wish you a life full of little things. (September 19, 2021)

Against Suicide: I'm here with you!!

Hello, my dear reverend respected friends. We are together in the month of yellow September in the fight against suicide.. Hello Do not give up. It is usually the last key on the locksmith that opens the door. Suicide demonstrates that in life there are greater evils than death. And God keeps whispering, "Don't give up, the best is yet to come."

Don't face the storm alone, I'm here to talk to you! It's not drama, it's not to draw attention, it's not frills and much less lack of God! A conversation, a hug or a simple "I'm here" can save many lives! Talking is the best solution. Don't reject a request for help! Respecting the struggles others face alone is the truest form of empathy. Chat. I hear. Follow and get help. Sometimes a silent heart cries out for help. Listen more, be kind and don't give up on helping. Sometimes a silent heart cries out for help. Listen more, be kind and don't give up on helping. Don't let what's bad for you to spill over. Get help!

Don't think that all funny people have a happy life, a beautiful laugh can be a cry for the soul. In the midst of an era in which mental disorders are increasingly present, let's find out more before we go on saying the wrong things! Connect to what really matters. Stay alive! It could be listening to your favorite song once, the noise of the rain or whatever makes you happy.

“Yellow September” is a month of alert for all of us. The alert is for each of us to listen to people more. Hear more people and see how you and the world around you will change a lot! You don't have to walk through life alone. I'm here to talk to you. When you feel lonely, remember, I'm here! Choose to live. Seek information, seek help, talk openly about emotions.

September is the time to rally for life. Yellow is the color of life, light and the Sun. The best way to prevent is to talk! Just tell me what you're feeling and I'll try to help you in some way, without judgment. You are important to someone and I care about your life! For everything, if there is a solution, everything passes. Believe. Talk to someone. You'll survive this somehow. Yellow September to remind you that life is colorful. It's no use sharing the yellow ribbon on suicide prevention and continuing to bombard an unpleasant and unsolicited opinion. # September yellow # September fight against suicide # ministry of the late fight against suicide.

Love

(This article is reproduction from 'Linkedin family' ----Rikio Kaneko)

Hello my dear respected friend. Congratulations for the beautiful article that today many are spiritually blind and are not exuding love for the earth, goodness and light .. My friend thanks for sharing. God bless you and bless everyone in the linkedin family with this beautiful enriching article. Love is a feeling of affection and a demonstration of affection that develops between beings who have the ability to show it.

Love motivates the need for protection and can manifest itself in different ways: maternal or paternal love, sibling love (fraternal), physical love, platonic love, love of life, love of nature, love of animals, selfless love, self-love, and etc. Etymologically, the term “love” arose from the Latin “love”, a word that had exactly the same meaning as today: feeling of affection, passion and great desire.

Thus, the noun "love" also gives rise to the verb "to love", which represents the action of the individual who feels this love, establishing a relationship between the subject who loves and the object he loves. Physical love or Eros represents love between couples, a feeling that involves a strong affective bond and, in general, a bond of a sexual nature. It is usually symbolized by the design of a heart and Cupid is the mythological figure who personifies love.

Love provokes enthusiasm for something and an interest in doing good, for example, love of nature or love of animals. Love for God or love for Christ demonstrates a religious connection, a feeling of devotion and worship. This type of love known as Agape, that is, it is unconditional, unique and impossible to be accurately described. Love of God is a commandment in many religions, not just Christians. Love is also one of the most important themes in various art forms. Discover 7 Works of Art in which the main theme is love.

Many people express their deepest feelings through love messages, declarations of love or love poems, which are shared with special people. Love also has a social role, fueling other actions and feelings such as solidarity. A forbidden love happens when two people cannot be together, when their relationship is not allowed. A famous forbidden love affair is that of Romeo and Juliet, because their families were rivals. Forbidden loves are often the most desired.

Love is a popular term for a charming, pleasant, kind, and friendly person. The term can be used as an adjective "the child is a love" or vocative "love, I'm here". There are several definitions and types of love, which differ depending on people and circumstances. Some examples of love genres are:

Platonic love,

True love,

Brotherly love,

Unconditional love,

Sowing and harvest

Study of Cells The Law of Sowing - Galatians 6.6-7 .. Icebreaker: Do you know the sowing law? Introduction: One of the simplest laws to understand, and perhaps the most present in our daily lives, is the law of sowing. It's simple, it means that every "seed" you sow in the ground will one day return to you in the form of a "harvest". When we talk about sowing, we are not talking about agricultural planting, the seeds we sow in the ground are our attitudes.

The important thing is that we know all our actions can result in a good or bad harvest, depending on what we sow. Everything that is sown always returns as a harvest. How to have a good harvest?

1st, we need to sow a good seed. v.8. The text of Galatians says that whoever sows in the flesh will reap corruption, and Prov 22:8 also says that whoever sows unrighteousness reaps wickedness. Bad seeding can have disastrous consequences for us and our family. If we want a blessed harvest, we need to sow good seeds, because the text says that whoever sows in the Spirit will reap life. QUESTION: In your opinion, what to do with the bad seeds we sowed in the past? Suggested Answer: Confess to God and sow no more; if you are reaping their fruit, seek the help of a discipler.

2nd, we cannot give up sowing. v.9 ...if we don't get discouraged... Herein lies the biggest problem for most of us, perseverance. Many even begin to sow to reap in God, but abandon the process before the harvest. The Bible makes it very clear that the good harvest comes only to those who do not faint; that is, for those who sow and persevere. No matter what your need, trust in God, in His Word and persevere sowing. QUESTION: In your opinion, what causes people to give up sowing good seeds before harvest. Suggested Answer: Lack of dedication, lack of love, lack of discipline, and lack of perseverance.

3rd, we need to wait for the right time to harvest. v.9 ...for in due time we will reap... Many do not have a good harvest because they are rushing. They even use the right seed, but anxiety and haste move them to harvest too soon, or to give up. Don't be hasty, remember that there is time for every purpose and the right time (God's time) for your harvest will come. QUESTION: In your opinion, what is the best way to wait for harvest time without getting discouraged. Suggested Answer: Stay motivated; persevere in prayer;

Conclusion: Want a blessed life? Do you want to receive a good harvest from the hands of God? So let's sow good seeds, never give up on sowing, and wait patiently for the harvest time, because the promise is that we'll certainly reap if we haven't fainted. (September 5,2021)

Miracles dwell in the invisible

Hello everyone, I wish you a blessed week for the whole family. I thank you every day for each one's life and I pray every day for everyone and that God may visit and probe the heart of each one.

May God protect the lives of each one infinitely and with the angels of heaven be with each one. Remember if you are so far alive, it is because you are selected by God and he is merciful. Keep your heart pure and never lose hope, for miracles dwell in the invisible. May you have a great day and a blessed week! Gratitude for life, faith in the journey, peace in the soul and a lot of love in the heart are all I wish you for a week full of blessings.

2022 year will be a new legacy of a new time

Hello my dear reverends respected ambassadors and leading global government leaders. I directly ask you to share all articles of great enriching value for the global federal authorities. My dear respected reverends, I claim alertness , caution , flexibility , resilience , consistency in your purposes.

Officially as Brazilian global leader and as Vice-Chief of the Religion and Ethics Council of the ELFO, I claim that in 2022 there will be a new year of the future millennium of new adaptations and new democratic laws, and Global rigid sanctions. There will be the seal of peace, love, worldwide civil disarmament of atomic weapons, nuclear weapons in wise long-term studies and strategies by members of the ELFO Team (World Organization for Peace, Love, and World Civil Disarmament) family.

My dear extremist Taliban will become religious Taliban for love, kindness and peace. My dear beloved respected reverends, in 2022 there will be good news of scientific discoveries and good news of peace, love, joy, health, solidarity and kindness. It will be seven years of peace sealed by the world organization. Be prepared, I cordially ask you to innovate and live the power of universal technology and to adapt now to new robotic technologies in the future in research and approvals.

Best regards as Vice-Chief of the Religion and Ethics and Ambassador of Brazil CNBRNE. I ask you to be more than prepared than ever. 2022 year will be a new legacy of a new time and a new millennium future number for new future eras. Together we are stronger and more than winners. 2022 time is for planting and harvesting.

I wish you all a weekend richly blessed with lots of love, kindness, paz and solidarity. In 2022 there will be a single religion and ethics. Will there be times of a new world economy with a single global digital currency 2022, will be a time of gold, silver and ivory in our lives.

Dear Edmario San, thank you so much for your encouraging heart, which touches almost all the ELFO members, I suppose. You know, our ELFO is only a baby of 8 months, but began to walk by itself world-wild. It is as if one of miracles happened, it is a good sign for future toward the ONE WORLD where there will not wars, where we can see more flowers of harmony, respect, love, good and beauty.

Have happy weekend,

Yours, Rikio

Self-introduction

My dear friend, ELFO President Rikio and my mentor

I sent you an interesting article to jointly take care of the global earth, peace, love, science, unification of religion, peace treaty, health, education and global security of the universe and the planet earth of God. We are eternal faithful partners without breaking the alliance of this Planet. Together we are stronger and more than winners.

Thank you very much for your attention, your patience, understanding, wisdom, insight and providing this partnership and alignment to the ELFO team .. Let us not forget kindness, long-suffering, kindness, faithfulness, humility, self-control, meekness, solidarity and doing good without looking at whom.

Hello my dear eminent ambassadors of the ELFO.

Now I want to share my impactful testimony of my story with all my friends of ELFO. I'm Brazilian and I live in Rio de Janeiro (pic.). I am a textile retail salesman, a humble micro-entrepreneur and am 31 years old. Single without children. I have 4 brothers and 4 beautiful nephews. I have a thirst for God and I desire in my heart for my unshakable faith that at the right time of God I will be blessed in all areas of my life to help my parents who now live with me.

My parents are sick and need me a lot and just as I depend on them in my life. I was absent from them for 8 years on a mission to help my mother-in-law who died in 2018. I believe and determine by my unshakable faith that in God's time I will be honored in restitution for everything I lose and be very happy. I really want to rebuild a new history, a new legacy and a new family with a wife of God, beautiful who respects me and takes good care of my children and is a super responsible woman.

I've suffered a lot in life and now I just want victory and God's blessings for my life. My success is the success of each ambassador friend humbly speak. I started at 13 years old in sales and as an entrepreneur. I plan to marry a wonderful, God-blessed woman in the future and fulfill my dream of being a father. I have a simple and humble multi-brand clothing store. $350 rent paid monthly. "Multibrands" in the city of Rio de Janeiro. In 2017, I was the seller who sold 4,853 pieces in one month and received stage recognition from the best Coaches in Brazil. Lecture with 1,000 invited business attendees about approach, product research, product demonstration, objection and customer relationship.

I spent 8 years on a great mission on Earth caring and working hard to protect the life of my mother-in-law who died on February 26th, two days before my birthday. My mother-in-law was a great mother who inspired me a lot. My ex-wife fought hard in almost every hospital in Rio de Janeiro to keep my mother-in-law alive and well. I had a very difficult and challenging journey, I always changed when I managed to stay on duty with my ex-wife in hospitals in Rio de Janeiro. My mother-in-law suffered from seizures and cancer. I leave the hospital at 5 am and research the two-hour commute to work. I never had absences and tardiness from my old job. On the 22nd, my mother-in-law was very ill with the advance of cancer. For the cancer was already affecting the liver and kidneys.

I got news from my ex-wife at work that she was sick and I rushed to rescue her. As soon as she arrived at the hospital she was very weak and the flesh of her uterus was rotten. Arriving at the hospital, the doctor attended us and gave us three days from the terminal in the state of cancer, which was to notify the whole family for visits. On the penultimate day before my mother-in-law's death, she asked me for the last hug of thanks 🙏. And that today she is in heaven.

In June 2020, I had to dispose of my property worth more than $125,000 without guidance, wisdom, discretion, and I sold the property for well under half the price.

Sincerely, Vice President of the Council on Religion and Ethics.
Edmário Peixinho dos Santos.

My former article for reference:

Protection of environment through an essentially philosophical revolution

The only way to protect the environment or make sustainable use of natural resources is through an essentially philosophical revolution, a change in our conceptions of nature, human nature and the relationship between human beings and nature, naturally accompanied by a change in our values, from a myopic anthropocentrism to a wider circle of concern.

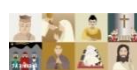

We humans are intimately connected to the physical-chemical world that surrounds us, with every air we breathe, every sip of liquid we take and every morsel of food we eat. We are like a vortex in a flow of energy and materials, distinguishable only as ephemeral structures within that flow. We cannot conceive of ourselves as independent of the natural environment.

On the contrary, we are a continuation of it. Protecting human health and well-being goes hand in hand with protecting the health and well-being of the environment. The ideal environmental setting is a human society and economy coexisting in symbiotic harmony with nature.

A human harmony with nature is being expressed in a more specific and concrete way in areas such as: industrial ecology, in which the residues of an industrial process must serve as a resource for another industrial process; biomimetic, which naturally involves biological processes, serves as a model for artificially created industrial processes; “Green” architecture, where each structure produces more energy than normal, such as solar, wind and other sources.

All this is possible to be achieved. But, you see, the first step is philosophical, a new conception that nature is embedded in the entire macrocosm of Earth. Only coordinated, concerted and collective action can be effective in mitigating global climate change. This means a complex dialectic of technical-socioeconomic evolution and political action.

My first article to ELFO for reference:

Suffering and kindness

Sometimes we say the world is vast and sometimes we say it is small, no matter how we imagine, we know that there are countless people on Earth and at least as many ways to Suffering. It doesn't matter whether the suffering comes from within or without, it often becomes more intense due to the feeling of isolation and loneliness it brings with it.

The suffering gives us the impression that we have no friends. When we open our hearts to others, the magnitude of the suffering we encounter can be almost unbearable. Our feelings of compassion and love can conflict. Therefore, it is helpful to remember that the most powerful remedy we can offer for any kind of suffering is simply kindness.

Goodness says, "You're not alone. I see you, I hear you. I'm here with you." Just one day, that feeling of genuine connection can change the trajectory of a lifetime. Being genuine and gentle is like a remedy for broad-spectrum headaches. Providing food, shelter and work is important, and this should always be done as much as possible. If we are in a position to give any of these things, we should not hesitate. But all of us has the ability to be genuine and kind. # Seeds of Solidarity # Seeds of Love # Seeds of Kindness # United Nations.

Here in our ELFO there are many people now and more in the future people will enter our gates. Anyway, let's build an unprecedented friendly and peaceful atmosphere organization to which we attach greater importance, among others.

Here in our ELFO there are many people now, and in the future more colorful numerous people will enter our gates. Anyway let's build unprecedented friendly and peaceful organization where we attach utmost importance, among others, to the followings:

Harmony, Respect, Love, Good, Beauty
